Rick

If you fly Spektrum, take a second look at using SAFE Mode.

Recently, I was at an event in Georgia and a demonstration of SAFE Mode was performed.

Pilot had the transmitter set up with SAFE enabled and on a switch. The spotter hand launched a small plane upside down. As soon as the plane was released the pilot activated SAFE Mode and the airplane not only righted itself but was in a straight and level flight. I set up my Great Planes Tiger Moth with Safe Select ON. Safe really does work. Give it a try you might even save an airplane. Good luck and happy flying.

Ralph,
